

Privacy Policy

Introduction

Welcome to Tomorrow, where your journey into the world of travel begins with a commitment to your privacy. Our Privacy Policy is crafted to safeguard your personal information while you explore, connect, and share your travel experiences with us.

Account Registration and Profile Management

When you join Tomorrow, you create an account using your phone number, verified by an OTP sent via SMS. Your profile is a personal space where you can post about your business, manage both your business and social media posts, save and review places, and even request to delete your account. We handle this data with utmost care, ensuring your privacy and control over what you share.

Travel Exploration

In the Travel section of our app, you can search for travel destinations posted by others, consult with our experts for flight tickets, explore places by type (like mountains or beaches) and by Cambodian cities such as Phnom Penh and Siem Reap. Discover nearby places and stay updated with events and promotions. All the while, we use this data to tailor your experience and improve our services.

Social Interaction in Zone

Zone is our social hub where you can create posts, browse others' content, and view profiles. We monitor interactions to maintain a respectful community. Misuse of features can lead to account suspension. With features like report and close buttons, we rely on community feedback to manage content visibility. Accounts with repeated violations are subject to review and possible suspension, ensuring a safe environment for all users.

Chat Features and AI Interactions

Our chat function is a gateway for diverse communications: user-to-user, user-to-merchant, user-to-consultant, and interactions with our AI chatbot. While the chatbot is limited to text and voice messages, other chat functionalities include text, voice records, photos, videos, files, and emojis. We respect the privacy of your conversations and only intervene in cases of reported misuse.

Data Usage and Protection

We use your data to enhance your experience within the app, including personalizing content and facilitating interactions. We implement robust security measures to protect your data from unauthorized access.

User Choices and Controls

You have control over your data. You can request account or data deletion, with a grace period of three days for confirmation. If we don't receive a response, the deletion request will be void. We retain only essential information, such as your name and profile images, after account deletion.

No In-app Advertising

We promise a seamless experience free from disruptive in-app advertising, like Google Ads, ensuring your journey with us is uninterrupted and enjoyable.

Account Deletion and Data Retention

At Tomorrow, your control over your data is paramount. You can request to delete your account or specific data. We retain only essential information like your name and profile images. Deletion requests are processed with a 3-day confirmation period, after which, unconfirmed requests are considered void. Our team will attempt to confirm your request via phone or in-app chat before proceeding with data deletion.

Security and Compliance

Our commitment to your privacy extends to robust security measures and strict adherence to legal standards. We're not just an app; we're a promise of safe, enjoyable, and responsible travel.

Changes to the Policy

We reserve the right to modify this Privacy Policy. Any changes will be communicated through the app or via email, ensuring you're always informed.
